The Merx logo is displayed in white lowercase letters on a solid orange rectangular background.

The project scope involved the complete fit-out of the whole 19th floor with a very high specification in terms of both finishes and security. The relocation was executed following new security reviews and threat assessments from the Australian government which led to the existing consulate being deemed as not secure. Merx acted as the client project manager in every aspect of the project on behalf of Austrade. Merx assisted with the appointment of all consultants, suppliers and contractors based on pre-qualifications, open tenders and negotiations. As part of the project management role key Merx functions included taking ownership of the design process, master programming, communication structure and cost management to meet the client delivery expectations.
